2 credit Course for MD and MPH in comparative effectiveness research for the Johns Hopkins ICTR 2015-2016

Sonal Singh M.D., M.P.H, FACP

Sonal Singh MD, MPH, FACP received his MD from Patna Medical College India (1999). He completed internal medicine residency training at Unity Health System, affiliate of Strong Memorial Hospital Rochester, NY. He is a Diplomate of the American Board of Internal Medicine (2005-current) and an elected Fellow of the American College of Physicians (2019-current)-the largest internal medicine organization in the world. He obtained an MPH from Johns Hopkins Bloomberg School of Public Health (2008) and completed subsequent research training at the Johns Hopkins Hospital (2012) as a Junior Faculty Research Scholar supported by the National Institute of Health. He was the Associate Director for the Center for Drug Safety and Effectiveness and core faculty Evidence Based Practice Center and the Center for Public Health and Human Rights at Johns Hopkins University. He has taught and held faculty appointments at Wake Forest University School of Medicine and Johns Hopkins University. He has received numerous awards including the Senior Scholarship Award from the Unity Health System (2005), Tinsley R Harrison Teaching Award for Education at Wake Forest University in 2007, Master Teacher Award at Wake Forest University (2008), Mid-Atlantic Society of General Internal Medicine Clinician Investigator of the Year Award ( 2010), the Bruce P Squires Award for the best research paper of the year from the Canadian Medical Association Journal (2011). He conducts clinical research with a focus on evidence synthesis, drug safety and shared decision making. Dr Singh has conducted research in several countries and has published more than 150 academic manuscripts to advance research and clinical care, which have received more than 13,000 citations. His research efforts have been supported by the NIH, FDA, Agency for Health Care Research and Quality and the Patient Centered Outcome Institute and various private foundations. His scholarly work has been published in Science, NEJM, Journal of the American Medical Association, Annals of Internal Medicine, Lancet and the British Medical Journal, and featured in various outlets including Nature Medicine, NYTIMES, CNN, Washington Post and the Wall Street Journal. He currently serves on the editorial board of the Evidence Based Medicine Journal published by the BMJ, as a panel member of the American College of Chest Physician guideline writing group, and American College of Physicians Health Policy committee (Massachusetts chapter). He has served as a consultant to the World Bank, World Health Organization International Agency for Research Cancer, the Agency for Health Care Research and Quality, pharmaceutical sponsors, research firms and several non-governmental organizations. He is also a practicing general internist with a passion for managing patients with complex medical conditions.
